Controversy Over Veterans' Treatment Heads
For Showdown

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, March 10.—A controversy over treatment of psychiatric patients at Crile Veterans administration hospital here today appeared headed for a full-scale congressional investigation.

Another probe was being launched by Ralph H. Stone, deputy administrator of the Veterans administration for Ohio, Kentucky and Michigan, who announced in Columbus that an investigation by a board of competent "professional people" would start today.

Congressman Walter B. Huber (D-Akron), a member of the subcommittee, said Saturday in Washington that he "intends to see action taken."

Another member of the house, Francis P. Bolton (R-Cleveland) called for a full report from the Veterans administration. Mrs. Bolton said she would ask Gen. Omar Bradley, veterans administrator, for action today.

Home from Washington over the weekend, Republican Senator John W. Bricker said at Columbus: "The Veterans administration should immediately determine if there is any substance to these charges and whether or not they are personal."

Bender said he personally had received many complaints from patients while hospital "and at Brecksville hospital, too."

Plan Tryouts For
'My Sister Eileen'

The third play of the Salem Players club gets underway Tuesday evening when the players begin tryouts for "My Sister Eileen," which was a tremendous comedy hit on Broadway and in the films.

This vehicle will be under the direction of Howard Dodge, club president, with a cast of approximately 23 people.

The play deals with the amazing adventures of two girls during a short but frantic 12 months in Greenwich village, New York. The dialogue is heart-warming with an exceptionally high comedy content.

Tryouts will be conducted Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at the Players clubrooms, S. Broadway, and as many evenings next week as are needed to complete the cast. Club members and all other interested people are urged to attend.

Robert Casey, Veteran Reporter,
Town Hall Speaker March 17

Robert J. Casey—reporter, war correspondent, author, traveler and lecturer—will be the speaker at the Town Hall meeting next Monday night, March 17, in the High School auditorium.

Now in his late fifties, with 37 years of newspapering to his credit, Bob Casey retired a month ago after serving 25 years with the Chicago Daily News. He is the author of 22 published books, including four volumes about World War II.

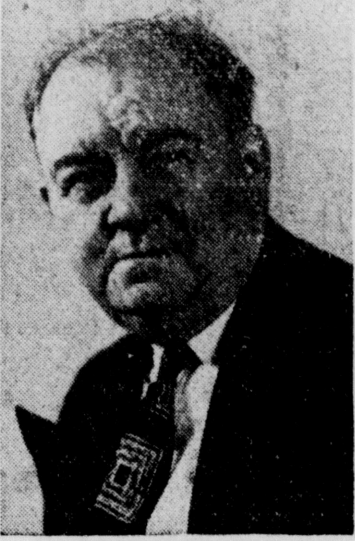

Known among newspapermen as "my most unforgettable character," Casey's originality of approach and treatment are characteristic of his stories and of his lectures. His subject next Monday night will be "Now We Can Talk," or "This Is Where I Came In."

Casey served as an artillery captain in World War I. When Hitler's army rolled into Poland in 1939, Casey was assigned by the Chicago paper to that scene. He was in the retreat from Paris, went through the London blitz, encountered plenty of action in the Mediterranean, covered the Libyan campaign when Rommel was on the march, tired of British censorship and came home just before Pearl Harbor.

Casey arrived in Honolulu on the first ship from the States after the attack on Pearl Harbor. He left with the U. S. fleet shortly after New Year's day and was with the American sea forces in action at the Marshall Islands, in the Coral Sea and at Midway.

The Navy thought enough of Bob's reportorial talent to have him do an exhaustive survey of U. S. submarine warfare. His report was withheld from publication until late in the war, but his study provided grist for his book, "Battle Below."

He returned to the European theater, crossed the English channel with the Allied armada on D-day, and was with the American forces in their drive through France, saw the liberation of Paris and continued with the Americans into Germany.

BREAD PRICES
UP ONE CENT

Twenty - Ounce Loaf To
Cost 15 Cents Here,
Other Ohio Cities

Bread prices moved up one cent today in many cities throughout Ohio, sending the general retail price of the 20-ounce loaf to 15 cents.

"Terrific world consumption of bread stuffs," coupled with heavy domestic demand were reasons given in Toledo by John McCarthy, former president of the American Wholesale Bakers association.

In Salem bread prices jumped one cent per loaf. However, only half the bread companies raised their prices locally, due to a shortage of properly marked wrappers. They are expected to follow suit soon.

Pastry prices also are being increased, it was learned.

Bread now costs retailers 12½ cents a loaf and will sell at 15 cents. Under the previous price of 14 cents, local merchants realized only a two cent profit.

In Akron the standard 20-ounce loaf of white bread rose one cent to 15 last week and today, the first day of National Doughnut week, that commodity jumped ten to 20 per cent.

Other cities reporting one-cent bread increases were Columbus, Cincinnati, Springfield, Dayton, Cincinnati, East Liverpool and Youngstown.

VFW Post Observes
25th Anniversary
At Program Sunday

Two gifts were presented Allen K. Reynolds post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at its 25th anniversary dinner Sunday evening in the hall, N. Broadway.

Gold Star auxiliary gave the post two mahogany desks, with Mrs. Harold Cook making the presentation, while Edward Tullis, president of the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, presented the group a large Bible.

The large cake on the speakers table was a gift from Mrs. Bert Lesch, whose husband, the late Bert Lesch, was a charter member and one of the organizers of the post.

The trophy won by the post's basketball team in the Sunday semifinals at Canton was presented by the team's mascot, Kathy Kleon.

Commander Joseph Hrvatin guested and introduced the guest speakers which included Capt. Robert G. Woodside of Pittsburgh, former national commander, who instituted the post; Herman W. Weber of Canton, commander of Ohio, and Walter Luginbuhl of Alliance, department chief of staff.

Approximately 400 attended the dinner, including post and auxiliary members and their families and members of the Dad's club and their families.

The dinner was served by the auxiliary at tables beautifully decorated with flowers.

Souvenir ash trays were given to all members present.

The post will elect officers at a meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the hall.

SENATE GROUP
GIVES APPROVAL
TO LILIENTHAL

Sen. Bricker Only Committee Member Casting
Negative Vote

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—The senate atomic energy committee today voted 8 to 1 for confirmation of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of W. W. Waymack, L. L. Strauss, Dr. Robert Bacher and Sumner T. Pike as members of the commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) cast the only vote against Lilienthal. His colleague, Senator Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, already had declared against the former chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) and Vandenberg (R-Mich), who were attending a White House conference, voted by proxy.

Up To Senate

All the names now go to the senate floor for consideration.

Connally was recorded only on the Lilienthal nomination. Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the Texas senator explained he did not know enough about the other nominees to cast a vote on them.

Bacher, Strauss and Waymack were approved by a vote of 8 to 0, with Connally abstaining.

Pike and Wilson were approved by a vote of 6 to 2, with Connally not voting and Bricker and Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) opposing confirmation.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), committee chairman, said he would report the committee's recommendations to the senate this afternoon.

"I shall make every effort to get the matter up at the termination of the pending business," he told reporters at the end of the 37-minute closed session.

Earlier Senator Wherry (R-Nebr), Republican whip, forecast a delay in senate action on the nominations. He told a reporter that he has made no allowances in the legislative schedule for floor debate on the appointments until some legislation is out of the way.

McKellar Adamant

The senate is debating a proposed constitutional amendment setting a two-term limit on the presidency.

Hickenlooper said the printed record of the five-week hearings will be available Thursday. The nominations have been before the committee since Jan. 20, but hearings did not start until Jan. 27.

A bitter floor fight on the Lilienthal nomination appeared inevitable as Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), long a political foe of the former TVA chief, promised "the damndest fight the senate ever saw."

Most senators appeared to believe that debate might run for three weeks because both opponents and proponents will seek to convince many members who remain undecided how to vote.

Philippines President Es-

ade Explodes

(By Associated Press)
MANILA, March 10.—A hand grenade exploded 20 feet from President Manuel A. Roxas tonight as he was making his final speech before a large crowd in favor of the American parity amendment on which Filipinos will vote tomorrow.

It was announced that the president was uninjured, but a photographer who was taking his picture was wounded in the side and back.

The grenade was thrown at 10:40 p. m. onto the grandstand in Plaza Miranda, in front of historic Quiapo church.

Police threw a cordon around the whole area in an attempt to locate the would-be assassin, who had not yet been apprehended. The huge crowd was thrown into a panic by the explosion.

So far as could be determined, the photographer, Emilio Magalang, was the only person injured.

A spokesman at the presidential palace credited Jose Avelino, president of the senate, with saving Roxas' life.

He said Avelino kicked the grenade away a moment before it exploded.

It was hurled accurately at the President as he sat down after finishing his speech.

The constitutional amendment which the president was advocating provides equal economic opportunities for United States citizens in the development of the Philippines.

There has been extensive campaigning for and against it for the past several months, with political observers predicting that it would be approved.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 10.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, 83, who entered the fight for world peace after her unflinching crusade for women's suffrage had succeeded, died yesterday of heart disease at her home here.

Only two days before, she had told her biographer, Mary Gray Peck, that she hoped to live to see the United Nations become a "going concern."

"With the passing of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, an era in our national life comes to a close," President Truman said in a telegram delivered yesterday to the Catt home. "... she will be widely mourned and long remembered."

Private funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home, with burial in Woodlawn cemetery in New York City.

Truman Places Greek Crisis
Before Congress Wednesday

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Truman will address congress Wednesday on the "whole question" of the Greek crisis and the critical situation in the Mediterranean area.

Announcements of Mr. Truman's decision to go before a joint session at 1 p. m. that day were made by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) and the White House after an hour and 20-minute conference of the President and congressional leaders.

Vandenberg, head of the senate foreign relations committee, told reporters that Mr. Truman would speak in behalf of the proposed Greek loan.

Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, said the address, not as yet finished, will require about 20 minutes to deliver.

Ross would not elaborate on this brief announcement.

"The President is going before a joint session at 1 p. m. Wednesday. He will address the joint session on the situation in the Near East."

Leaders Exchange Views

Ross said the session between Mr. Truman and the congressional leaders of both parties was devoted to an outline of the Near East situation and to an "interchange of views."

In talking to reporters, Vandenberg said:

"The President has discussed with us in great candor the situation involved in connection with the proposed Greek loan."

"He will come to congress at noon Wednesday to a joint session of the house and senate to discuss the whole situation."

A figure of $250,000,000 has been discussed as the amount the Greeks need from the United States in view of Britain's decision that it cannot go through the commitments it has made to King George's government at Athens.

Mr. Truman was represented as having told the 13 members of the house and senate who met with him that unless the United States acts quickly the Greek government may fall and Communist elements seize control of that strategic Mediterranean country.

The President was said to have emphasized that in any action this country takes it will be serving primarily the objective of world peace and American self-interest.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The office of temporary controls announced today that spare stamp No. 11 in OPA family ration books will become good April 1 for 10 pounds of sugar.

Validation of the 10-pound stamp will mark OPA's changeover from the 5-pound ration procedure for household users. The current stamp, No. 53 good for five pounds, will expire March 31.

OPA emphasized that new stamps being validated include sugar for both regular home canning use. No separate stamps will be issued for canning.

BEVIN LENDS
SUPPORT TO
U. S. PROPOSAL

Secretaries Begin Momentous Task of Writing
Final Peace

(By Associated Press)
MOSCOW, March 10.—Secretary of State Marshall gave a new push today to the United States proposal of a four-power alliance against Germany, but he was assured the support of only Britain's Ernest Bevin as the Foreign Ministers council met in snow-mantled Moscow to consider peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

The ministers opened the momentous session with little ceremony as a snowstorm swirled over this capital of Russia.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France was reported to be agreeing tentatively to support the four-power pact sponsored by the United States only if it was part of a broad pattern to keep Germany impotent.

He insisted that the other parts must include political separation of the Ruhr from Germany, a central government and a low level of industrial production.

Backs Byrnes Original Plan

Marshall told correspondents he was going to press for the German disarmament and demilitarization treaty originally proposed by James F. Byrnes, his predecessor. Bevin is known to favor the Byrnes plan strongly.

Marshall disclosed that he had stressed the importance of the pact in his stopover at Paris, but French sources said France would be able to agree to the proposal only on the conditions mentioned.

The secretary of state declined to speculate on the length of the Moscow meeting. Authoritative informants said, however, that Marshall was prepared to stay here as long as necessary to make real progress—assuming the first two or three weeks prove progress is possible.

The ministers drove over snow-covered streets to the meeting place, the house of the Soviet aviation industry, two miles from the Kremlin. A handful of curious Russians saw them.

Marshall Arrives First

Secretary of State Marshall was the first to arrive, reaching the building about 15 minutes before the session was scheduled to open at 5 p. m. (9 a. m. Eastern Standard time.) Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith accompanied Marshall.

The next in was Georges Bidault of France.

The grinding of movie cameras attracted various Russians, including workers who were cleaning the streets with snow removal equipment.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and his deputy, A. Y. Vishinsky, arrived together. They apparently were the only ones of the four-power group recognized by the spectators, who broke into a wave of handclapping. Molotov nodded curtly.

Marshall announced just before the meeting that he would press for agreement on a four-power treaty to keep Germany disarmed and demilitarized.

Little Pageantry

From the absence of ceremony it was apparent that the Russians wanted to impress upon everyone the "business like" character of the conference.

The only decorations outside the building were two sets of small flags of the United States, Britain, France and Russia bunched on each side of the door.

The scene contrasted sharply with the pageantry and color of Paris and New York, where earlier meetings of the foreign ministers were held.

Among the arrivals were F. T. Gousser and Gen. Mark W. Clark Russian and American deputies for Austria. The presence of Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet administrator of Germany, was a surprise to the other delegations. The commanders in chief of the other countries in Germany were left on the job there.

PARKING METERS
NOT IN USE YET

Although some people are dropping coins in Salem's new parking meters, the deposit for parking is not required yet, Safety Director C. E. Phillips reminded motorists today.

Downtown parking is still unrestricted and will remain so until the existing traffic ordinance can be amended by council.

The meters are in the process of being tested. Police Chief Nerr Gaunt said.

Girl Scouts' Campaign

For ten years the Girl Scout organization in Salem has been developing so steadily that now, on its tenth anniversary, it is recognized for its wholesome influence in the community as well as to the 300 girls whose activities have made it such a force for good. While it stresses the study and enjoyment of nature and the outdoors, its activities embody such objectives as arts and crafts, community life, health and safety, home-making, international friendship, literature and dramatics, music and dancing, sports and games.

Such a broad program of activities permits the development of the girls' minds and bodies and talents far beyond that possible at home or in the class room at school. In many ways the community has noted these developments and, to a certain extent, has profited by their achievements and their willingness to be useful. They have been favored by excellent leadership and by the increasing interest shown by parents and other adults.

It is fitting that on this tenth anniversary the Girl Scouts and their leaders have set about to accomplish their greatest project to date—construction of a lodge and other improvements at their reservation north-west of the city. It is an ideal setting and the girls have made much use of it since the Rotary club, which established the camp for boys many years ago, turned the reservation over to them.

With the backing of 90 adult council members and leaders, and the good will and best wishes of the community at large, the campaign to raise $6,500 for these permanent improvements should find ready support.

Two Misgivings

Contrary to their critics, who are accusing the American people of miffing a rendezvous with destiny unless they accept full responsibility for British foreign policy, there are at least two legitimate misgivings about such a decision.

Power politics isn't what it was when Britain maintained a balance of power by throwing its support to the weaker side in Europe. When the British were masters of that technique—and perhaps they still are—they acted as a third party. The United States in 1947 is not a third party. It is one of the two main parties. Soviet Russia is the other. This nation is part of the power to be balanced, not the balancer.

Americans properly think of the British as inheritors of the tradition of individual freedom and therefore as allies in the struggle against statism. But Americans would be less than acute if they did not perceive that an apparent majority of Britons no longer share responsibility for the struggle against economic dictatorship, which is the introduction to statism. The plain fact is that Britain is playing off one great power against another, making amiable gestures toward Russian communism with one hand while reaching for United States loans with the other. The British have compromised their own good faith as allies of the United States.

This is not to be critical of Great Britain, but only to suggest that in order to deal with it the United States should acknowledge what is obvious. In a word, Americans would be foolish not to have some misgivings about British intent in asking the United States to assume responsibility for its foreign policy in Greece, for example. It isn't necessary to agree with Henry A. Wallace's recommendation for appeasing Russia to admit that he was more than half right in warning against becoming responsible for Britain's policies in the Middle East. The United States has enough troubles of its own, without standing sponsor for British mistakes. If it is to go to the rescue of Greece, it should do so on its own terms, not as the inheritor of British error.

The second misgiving concerns money. The United States is like an heiress who never can be sure whether she is being admired for herself or her wealth. In the United States, furthermore, are many persons so sure that Americans are universally loved that they try to show their appreciation by bestowing billions of dollars wherever and whenever requested. This passion for profligacy is indulged under various excuses; the current one is that America is saving the world from communism.

It is doubtful if the United States can save the world from communism by romping light-heartedly into national bankruptcy. If this country now must keep a rendezvous with destiny, it would do well to button up its money pocket.

Phrase - Making

A year from now, the major-party nominating conventions will be a scant three months away. Time is flying. The executive director of the Democratic national committee, Gael Sullivan, has been practicing his phrase-making for the big occasion and has come up with a fair sample—Taft-Tory.

A Taft-Tory, it appears from the context of Director Sullivan's warming-up exercises, is a Republican hell-bent on leading the United States into insolvency, meaning that he is reluctant to throw away money. He is a Republican whose heart is set on inflation, meaning he wants to guard the value of the currency. He is a Republican who advises against profligacy in spending money abroad and therefore is devoted to war. Director Sullivan's logic is obscure, but his intent is clear.

The man who is held to be the likely successor to Democratic National Chairman Hannegan is trying to find a combination of words that will revive the prejudices nurtured by the New Deal and the C.I.O. in the campaigns of former years. "Tory" was standard equipment for Democratic orators in the presidential campaigns of 1936 and 1940. The C.I.O. has spent thousands of its political dollars to develop prejudices against Senator Taft, on the sound premise that he was the most formidable individual in the political opposition. Taft-Tory isn't bad, but we can do just as well without half trying. How about Wallace-Wobblers?

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, March 11

AN alert and highly stimulated state of mind should incite to quick grasp of exceptional opportunities, with an inclination to launch out on new enterprises and bolder objectives, although such initiative demands important change, or environs, contacts and agreements. Swift moves should bring progress and greatly desired success, with pleasant trips, new associates.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of definite change, journeys, fresh opportunities and agreeable and lucrative contacts, probably in new fields of endeavor. The mentality is attuned to bright ideas and sagacity, inclining to quick grasp of circumstances or possibilities fulfilling cherished hopes and wishes. Renew old contracts on more alluring bases, and travel into new environs may bring surprising and long-term agreements in understandings.

A child born on this day is blessed with much versatility, talents and a keen grasp of opportunities for a successful career.

Treating Cases of Dysentery

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FOREWARNED is farsighted, and so today medical science is on the alert to recognize diseases from other parts of the world which may have been brought back and spread to others by returning service men.

According to Dr. Albert M. Snell of the United States Naval Reserve, one of the diseases which is likely to become more frequent as a result of the war is amebiasis, also called amoebic dysentery. This disorder is caused by infestation with a parasite known as the endamoeba histolytica.

Widespread Outbreak

Dr. Snell estimates that from 2 to 10 per cent of the people of this country already suffer from such infestation. He warns that widespread outbreaks could result from contamination of water supplies either by those recovering from an attack or those who harbor the parasites without showing any symptoms.

The ameba first attacks the intestinal tract, where it may cause dull abdominal pain, some tenderness within the abdomen and mild anemia. Even this mild condition should receive immediate attention by the doctor.

In its acute form, the diarrhea, intense pain in the abdomen, chills, vomiting and sometimes, collapse. In most instances the disorder starts with moderate diarrhea, some griping, loss of weight and anemia. The symptoms may be much like those of appendicitis.

In milder cases, there may be attacks which go and come over periods of months or years with pain in the abdomen, continuous loss of weight, anemia and slight fever.

X-Ray Examination

The X-ray examination may be helpful in making a diagnosis of amebiasis. Of course, the stool should always be examined for the presence of the parasites or their cysts.

Such examination must be carried out by one who has been trained to recognize the ameba. It is sometimes necessary to examine from 12 to 15 stools before the parasites are found.

week later the carbarsone treatment is repeated.

Such treatment may serve to eradicate the ameba completely and bring about a cure of the disorder. Other physicians prefer different forms of treatment and use emetine especially when abscesses of the liver are present.

The most important factor in preventing the spread of amebiasis through a community is early recognition and treatment of isolated cases.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

How you can help YOUR ARMY DO ITS PART FOR PEACE

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF WAR

WITH the President's proposal for the discontinuance of Selective Service on March 31, America will rely on voluntary enlistments for the maintenance of the Regular Army at authorized strength.

In view of world conditions today, this is a step of the gravest importance to every American citizen. Never before in history has any nation raised and maintained a million-man army by the volunteer system alone. Our ideals, our belief in individual freedom, our safety, our duty to promote world peace—are bound up in this decision.

This is your Army, and voluntary enlistment is your choice. It must not fail. With your help it will not fail. The Army must continue to provide adequate occupation forces overseas, to supply these forces, and to help in keeping America strong and secure.

Your help and understanding can do much to encourage a steady flow of 3-year voluntary enlistments, necessary to sound training and the efficient performance of the Army's task.

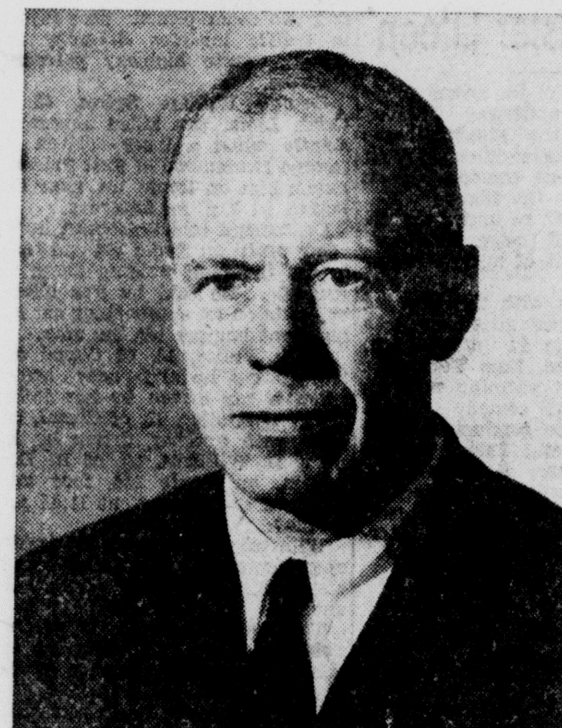

When you discuss this subject with your sons, brothers, husbands or friends who may be considering an Army career, bear in mind the advantages offered by a 3-year enlistment. Among them are the choice of branch of service and of overseas theater where openings exist, and the opportunity for training in valuable skills at Army schools.

It is a high tribute to the loyalty and spirit of the American soldier that two out of every three men in the present Army are veterans — men who have known the hardships of war and have chosen to continue their service.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, March 10—Here is an ABC explanation of the foreign ministers meeting which opens in Moscow today.

Secretary of State Marshall is meeting there with the foreign ministers of Britain (Bevin), France (Bidaud), and Russia (Molotov). They're meeting for two reasons:

1. To try to work out a peace treaty for Austria.
2. To lay the groundwork for a peace treaty, some day, with Germany.

The four men may finish most of the work on Austria at Moscow and then let their deputies complete the dangling details later.

The German problem is far more difficult. It may be a year, two years, or more before any treaty for Germany is ready.

So this may mean several more meetings of the foreign ministers and, in between, a lot of work and meetings by their deputies.

The foreign ministers of the same Big Four nations took 18 months to finish treaties for Romania, Bulgaria, Italy, Finland and Hungary.

Because it's simpler, take the Austria problem first. The Allies already have agreed on three big points:

1. Austria shall be free and independent again. Germany gobbled it up in 1938.
2. It won't have to make any payment—reparations—for its part in World War II.
3. Russia, as pay for the huge damage done Russia by Germany, will get much German property in Austria.

But how much German property? That will be the biggest Austrian problem at Moscow.

Now take the German problem which falls into four main parts as the foreign ministers begin their talks:

Getting Germany ready for a peace treaty, the Ruhr, disarmament and reparations. Take them in order.
No. 1—Getting Germany ready for a peace treaty.
Germany now doesn't have any government which could sign a peace treaty, even if the Big Four nations had one ready.

Before they can offer such a treaty, they must let the Germans create a government. But what kind?

A strong, central government over a united Germany? The French are afraid that might mean a powerful Germany and another war.

Or a weak, central government over a union of fairly independent German states?

But would such a weak government mean, in the long run, an unprosperous Germany and, therefore, an unprosperous Europe?

Then there's that problem of getting Germany back on its economic feet so that it is self-sustaining. It isn't now.

It is divided up into four zones—one each occupied by the United States, Britain, France, Russia—and three economic units.

The United States and Britain merged their zones economically, but this still left all kinds of restrictions on trade and commerce between the Anglo-American and the French and Russian zones.

How then can the Big Four powers work out a plan to treat Germany as a single economic unit so it can become self-sustaining a nation?

The foreign ministers will wrestle with that one, too.
No. 2—The Ruhr.

The Ruhr, in western Germany, is the industrial heart of that country. It produces the best coal in Europe for making iron and steel. Other countries, including France, need some of that coal for their industries.

The French fear that, if the Germans control the Ruhr, they can in time cripple other countries industrially and prepare for war again.

So the Ruhr question for the for-

Vorndran Starts Second Term As County Auditor, Looks Back On 26 Years' Service

LISBON, March 10.—With a record of 26 years' experience in the office, Irvin J. Vorndran of Liverpool began his second four-year term today as Columbiana county auditor.

A Republican, he was chosen for a second term last November, when he defeated his one-time office boss, Ross Tisher, a Democrat, also of East Liverpool.

Vorndran is a veteran of World War I and a son of Mrs. Margaret Vorndran, a widow.

He served as bookkeeper or chief deputy under four county auditors before he became a candidate in 1942. They were Elmer E. Walker of Damascus, the late Charles E. Hamilton of Lisbon, the late John H. Irwin of East Palestine and Tisher, now a dairy owner in East Liverpool.

Before entering politics, Vorndran was a member of the office staff of the Dresden Pottery Co., in East Liverpool.

He is active in the Ohio Auditors association and is a member of the American Legion.

Mrs. Mason Beaumont, Oldest Salem Grad, Recalls Early Days

Mrs. Mason Beaumont of E. Third st., who has the distinction of being the oldest living graduate of Salem High school, was a student in the city's first high school building on E. Fourth st.

Graduating in the class of 1875, Mrs. Beaumont (Leora I. Welker) gives an interesting contrast of styles in graduation dresses.

There are few things more dear to the heart of a girl than her graduation dress.

Made of white tulle, a fine thin material, Mrs. Beaumont's graduation dress was floor length with a fan train over a hoop skirt.

Then came fashion required two long curls to complete lady's coiffure and Mrs. Beaumont still has the curls she wore to the 11th annual commencement exercises of Salem High school.

Fashions of '75 also demanded that women carry a fan, in order to be properly dressed. On this memorable occasion Mrs. Beaumont carried a white feather fan, which she has kept through the years.

Her diploma, printed on parchment, has a picture of the first high school building with trees in the yard and enclosed by a picket fence. It also bears the names of the board of education who were: Thomas C. Boone, president; Eli Sturgeon, secretary; H. A. Kirk, treasurer; John P. Hogan, Peter A. Lauble and M. V. Dunlap.

Lauble later became a judge and Dunlap served the city as mayor at one time.

Diploma Still Tied

The diploma is tied with the same blue ribbon that was on it the night Mrs. Beaumont received it.

Three young women composed the class of '75, the other two were the late Hannah C. Stewart, a teacher, and Mary J. Howell, a professional nurse.

The exercises were held in Concert hall, in the old First National bank building, known at that time as the Pow building.

Prof. William D. Henkle, who was superintendent of schools, also taught German in the High school. He was a nationally-known educator. The speller used in the High school was published by him.

When the students were preparing for an examination in spelling they would march around the room two by two and pronounce and spell their words, Mrs. Beaumont said.

Four years of Latin and one year of German were required.

Others In Class

Among the other students in her class, who started the course but did not finish, were Cassius and Edward Baxter, Ernest MacMillan, Choate Read, Charles Bonsall, Alice Kuhn, Ella Brainard and Mayme Trimble.

Music holds a large place in school life now. In those days there was no music in the schools, except for singing in the opening exercises in the grades.

However, there was plenty of music in the homes, according to Mrs. Beaumont. Most families had a musical instrument and the children were given private instructions.

Neither was art taught in the High school.

While there were no school sports, in winter sledding parties were popular.

There was a privately owned skating rink in the flats on W. Main st., now W. State st., near the railroad, where the town folk enjoyed this sport.

Mrs. Beaumont's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Welker, came to Salem from North Jackson when she was nine years old. Her mother's parents were pioneer residents of the Western Reserve and cleared a place in the forest for their first home. The family helped to build the churches and schools in that section.

Her brother, the late Scott Welker, also a student in Salem High school, was president of the Cherry Valley Furnace Co., which operated a large furnace in Leetonia some years ago.

Master Sgt. and Mrs. Pete A. Dutko of Patterson field, Dayton, spent the weekend in Salem with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnston, E. Fourth st., and Mrs. Susan Dutko of Aetna st.

Robert and David Ritchie, students at Wittenberg college, Springfield, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ritchie, Morris ave. They had as their guest, Joseph Schmalenberger of Greenville, also a student at this college.

Miss Kathryn Courtney of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Courtney, Jr., and son, Jared, of Lisbon, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Courtney, Sr., N. Ellsworth ave.

Miss Beatrice Maeder, teacher in the Canton schools, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. H. P. Maeder, Maple st.

WAIST-WHITTLING BELT IMPORTANT PART OF DRESS

Left, lattice cut gold kid girdle belt; top right, plaid taffeta polo model; below, bouffant-bow belt.

Leading belt designers have created waist whittlers that dramatize any costume, severe or soft, dressy or casual. Belts are no longer mere adjuncts to a costume, but an integral part of the new silhouette. Criterion created the three models shown above. An exciting version, shown left, swatches the hips in a girdle of lattice-cut gold kid. It emphasizes the long torso look of high fashion. The gay plaid polo model (top right) is triple-buckled in patent leather; and the bouffant-bow belt (below) can be used in three different ways, depending upon the style and needs of your dress. It can be worn front and center, one side, or as a bustle back. It is made of soft, bright colored capeskin. (International)

... "Busy Signals" ALL OHIO IS GLAD TO HEAR!

The rat-a-tat-tat of the riveter's hammer. The buzz of the carpenter's saw.

The sing of copper wires swishing over crossarms.

All of these are "busy signals" in the telephone business today. They are the sounds of construction... the building of new exchange buildings... the stringing of telephone lines... the expansion of a telephone system.

These are "busy signals" everyone is glad to hear. They mean more and better telephone service. They also mean more jobs and a boost to Ohio's industrial progress.

We will spend $125,000,000 in the next few years for new telephone equipment and improvements to our existing plant. This is the biggest construction program in our history and one that is being pushed ahead with all possible speed.

$40,000 Is Stolen By Safe Crackers

NEW STRATTSVILLE, O., March 10.—Two safe blowers robbed Pearl Slater, New Straitsville garage owner, of $40,000 last night and one escaped in a gun fight with the town marshal.

Sheriff Clair Butts of Perry county said he was holding without charges 51-year-old Joseph L. Smith, alias Joseph Lee Burke, of Cleveland.

Smith, said the sheriff, was captured by Marshall Charles Donley after he tripped in a ditch. He was unarmed.

A companion, however, disappeared into the darkness carrying a canvas sack containing what Mayor William Davis said was $40,000 in large bills. Sheriff Butts asserted.

The companion and Marshal Donley exchanged "five or six shots" as the bandits emerged from a rear door of the second floor apartment over Slater's garage. No one was hurt apparently.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Columbiana To Meet Springfield Township In B Regionals

Clippers Have Excellent Night In Winning District Title Over Touted Ellet

Playing what might be described as a "perfect" game the surprising Columbiana Clippers, coached by Johnny Cabas, completely put to rout one of the state's top notch teams Saturday night in drubbing Akron Ellet 58-42 in the district Class B finals in Kent.

The victory advances the Clippers to the regional tournament, along with Springfield Township, Lowellville and Strasburg.

Fans numbering more than 4,000 left the Kent State university gymnasium dumbfounded with the ease with which the Clippers disposed of Ellet, who had been regarded by some as potential state champs.

The Cabasmen made hardly a mistake, with each department of their game at its peak. Their shooting percentage was a high 37 per cent, their ball handling and passing smooth and errorless and their rebounding inspired.

It took the Clippers a quarter and a half to really warm up to their evening's work. During that period of the game the lead changed hands 11 times and it looked as though the tilt could go either way. Ellet, paced by Gene and Glen Proctor edged to a 12-9 lead at the quarter.

Columbiana's score was compiled by Wayne Urschler, who hit for five points, and Rich Berryman and Dick Perkins, who each notched a basket.

The second period changed the complexion of the game, however, with Columbiana coming back to take over the lead midway through the quarter. They never relinquished it thereafter.

The Clippers controlled the ball during the quarter so completely that Ellet was able to take but six shots at the hoop. That they made three of the six was the only reason Columbiana was held to a five point 24-19 lead at halftime.

Urschler hit for five more points in the second quarter and was easily the outstanding player during the first half.

The Clipper rebounding was much better the second period, after Ellet had had an edge in that department during the initial quarter.

The third period was somewhat a repetition of the second, as the Clippers increased their margin three points to 39-21. Ellet made its strongest bid midway through the period when they narrowed the gap to 32-27. Both teams alternated in making quick buckets near the end of the eight minutes and the crowd went wild with excitement.

As Columbiana rolled up a 12 point margin on three layups early in the fourth, the outcome was decided. After the automatic timeout, the Clippers began to freeze the ball, for no apparent reason. In doing so, however, they increased their lead five points before the final gun. During that time two

FOUR TEAMS FROM EACH CLASS PLAY AT KENT GYMNASIUM

Clippers Play Thursday: 'A' Semi-Finals Carded On Friday Night

Pairings for the Northeastern Ohio regional Class A and B basketball tournament were made Sunday afternoon at Kent, scheduling the Columbiana Clippers—this district's outstanding B entry—against Springfield Township of Mahoning county at 7:45 p. m. Thursday at Wilks gymnasium, Kent.

The other two B entries, Mahoning's Lowellville and Tuscarawas county's Strasburg, will meet in the 9 p. m. game Thursday, the winners of the two B games to clash at 8 Saturday for the right to advance to Columbus the following week.

In Class A Barborton Magics, winners at the Akron district, will meet Ashtabula—which won the Euclid Shore tournament on Lake Erie—at 7:45 p. m. Friday and Canton Lincoln, the Youngstown affair co-champion, will square off against surprise Cuyahoga Falls, the other Akron co-champ, at 9 Friday.

Canton Township from the Youngstown tournament was sent to New Concord.

Columbiana's Clippers, victors over Akron Ellet Saturday at Kent, seemed the most feared outfit among the B entries. Columbiana boasts a 21-1 record, Strasburg a 29-1 season and tournament mark, Lowellville a 21-4 record and Springfield a 21-4 record.

Strasburg is led by 6-5 inch Clarence Yackey, who has scored 515 points this season.

In A, Barborton boasts the best record, 17-4, while the others are: Lincoln 12-2, Cuyahoga Falls 11-8 and Ashtabula 15-7.

Tournament Manager Merle Waggoner announced that John Russ of Youngstown, Paul Tobin of Akron and Robert Oldfather of Painesville would be the officials for the event.

The finals in both A and B Saturday will begin at 8 and 9:15 p. m., different from the Thursday and Friday games.

Admissions to the regional tournament will be $1 to all over 12 years old, Waggoner announced.

Just 16 teams each remain in the A and B tournaments throughout the state, with regionals also slated for New Concord, Bowling Green and Springfield.

Pairings for this week's other regional high school basketball championship tournaments, with won-lost records of the teams:

CLASS A

At Dayton: Friday afternoon—Dayton Fairmont 16-3 vs Upper Arlington 22-0; Friday night—Midtown (state champion) 14-7 vs Cincinnati Roger Bacon 18-7.

Indians - Giants Now Even In Exhibitions

(By Associated Press) —The TUCSON, Ariz., March 10—The Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants were all even today after the first two games of their spring exhibition series.

The Giants accounted for the deadlock yesterday by winning 8 to 7 in a game played at Phoenix before 6,425 spectators. A fly ball lost in the sun by outfielder Ted Sebekowski enabled the Giants to produce the run that meant victory.

At Gettel and Gene Bearden hurried for the Tribe while Dave Keslo, Monte Kennedy, Bill Voiselle and Ken Trinkle worked for the Giants.

Expect Scrap Steel Prices To Level Off

CLEVELAND, March 10—Though "inflationary forces" are pushing steel scrap quotations may level off before long, the magazine Steel said today.

"Last week, pig iron went up several dollars a ton, scrap continued to spiral at various centers, upward adjustments were effected in important ferroalloys, and lead, copper and silver hit new postwar highs. All in all, the various metallurgical markets presented every appearance of a boom," said Steel, which also declared the higher prices are accompanied by "uncertainty and confusion in steel and metalworking circles."

Every prescription compounded precisely as the Physician directs. That is the creed we heed. It is an assurance in time of illness. So, with your next prescription, come to this "Reliable" Pharmacy.

"SECTION Y, ROW 3, GRAVE 7"

"It may appeal to the ultra-efficient, to be filed away for the last long rest in a grave with markings identical with others near it.

If it is 'old-fashioned' to want some individuality, then I'm an old-timer. I want a plot of ground set apart for those of my family who may wish to be buried close by; a plot identified by our name on a granite monument. It is the name we have been proud to answer to while living and I will be proud to have it answer for me when I'm gone."
